Hi Ben. It might be tough at 1030am due to site work. We are about to start first cuts of office concrete this morning. we will get together. I think we are good with the soil data products and the updated PRGs for now. Lyndsey will answer your Uranium question shortly.

Eric

Good morning Eric,

I hope you had a god weekend. In view of future site work at the NFB and HTC sites, I plan to dedicate time to catch up with the project status this week and would like to discuss your priorities to enable us provide you with the support you need with regards to deliverables or other needs. Please let me know if 10:30am today will be a good time to call you.

Thanks,

Ben Nwosu
